Fall 2018 Semester Special Events

Workshop Week!

Monday, October 29 -
Saturday, November 3

Powers Music School

Workshop Weeks include fun and interactive classes taught by local and regional teaching artists that encourage creativity within our faculty, bring accessible music and arts programs right to you, and provide a fun way to learn about music together. We'll have a variety of hand-chosen workshop topics for all age groups, including adults, seniors, young children, K-8 and high school students, and parents. Everyone from novices to aspiring professionals will find something they like!

Massachusetts Youth Symphony Project / Chamber Ensembles

Sunday, Decembet 16, 3:00 pm
Cary Hall, Lexington

Our MYSP Chamber Orchestra presents their first performance of the year, joined by some of Powers' advanced chamber ensembles, for an evening or unforgettable music.

Belmont Open Sings G.F. Handel's "Messiah"

Sunday, December 16, 7:30 pm
Payson Park Church, Belmont

Choral singers and vocalists of all experience levels from all over the Greater Boston region join forces with a volunteer orchestra and talented soloists to perform one of the great masterworks of G.F. Handel. This event has become a tradition for many singers during the holiday season.

Stein Chamber Music Festival

Saturday, January 26, 5:30 pm
All Saints' Church, Belmont

This festival honors the memory and accomplishments of chamber music enthusiast and Belmont residents Joseph Stein and his wife Lise Stein. The festival is a chance for chamber musicians and students to come together to share their common passion and perform. Two concerts include music of all genres performed by musicians of all ages, ranging in abilities from beginning students to amateurs and professionals.
